Diakonia is a program of lay spiritual formation that includes a two-year process of training and theological education. Begun by a Lutheran pastor to support the work of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA), diakonia is offered to both ELCA members and others interested in learning more about their Christian faith. Currently active in 11 out of 65 ELCA synods, the program develops dynamic disciples by providing: a rich theological education, a deepened appreciation of the Bible, and clarity in forms of grace-filled service.
